

I believe that changing this law, would be a major error, if you let one business call, it won't be long and they will all be calling again. I get enough credit card offers in the mail and I'm not interested. How about the telemarketers pay my phone bill before they can call me. I pay the bill, I should be able to decide who I want calling my house and bothering me at all times of the day and telemarketers are on the absolute bottom of the list, right next to political calls. I guess laws are made to be changed if BIG business feels their pocket books getting lighter, not if the general public feels they are being harassed.
